FIFTEEN CENTS

The school district's Crime Prevention and Drug Education Program was just revised and updated this past summer, according to social studies coordinator Luanne Collins. She said that information about drugs used in the PISD curriculum is very recent and presents quite an improvement over the outdated material used previously. (Staff photo by Richard LaGow).

Schools Stress Values With Drug Education

(Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of six articles outlining the various aspects of teenage drug abuse in Plano).

By TERRI ANDERSON

Value education and the development of decision-making skills are the core of a kindergarten through 12th grade drug education program in the Plano Independent School District. "Drugs, per se, are a very small part of the total curriculum," explained Luanne Collins, a PISD social studies coordinator. "In a society like ours where kids are presented with (drugs) so often and peer pressure is so strong, they need more than just the knowledge of drugs."

Integrated into the social studies programs in grades K-12, Plano's Crime Prevention and Drug Education Program is mandated by state law. It focuses primarily on the teaching of proper values—self-esteem, interpersonal relationships, decision-making—and also explains the consequences stemming from drug abuse and crime.

"If you give kids all of the information about what drugs will do to them and help develop their decision-making abilities, they're less likely to be a drug abuser," said Ms. Collins. She added that teaching just the facts about drugs could serve only to make children curious about them.

"Scare tactics," the old method of preaching only the harms of drug abuse without teaching students to make intelligent decisions, are avoided in the Plano program. The effects of drug abuse and of getting involved in crime are taught, but are second in importance to the value education.

"It's deceiving when you say drug education," Ms. Collins emphasized. "They think you're teaching all about drugs and that's all you do."

"Drug abuse isn't a problem of products—it's a people problem," she continued. "There are times when information is shared and that's in science and health and social studies. Working on self-concepts and decision-making abilities is something done in every class in grades K through 12."

Information about drugs such as marijuana, alcohol, tobacco (nicotine), barbiturates, amphetamines, etc. is very recent, stressed the social studies coordinator. She said the program was updated this past summer—the drug education program conducted before this year utilized information published as far back as 1958.

Ms. Collins said that both sides of some controversial drugs such as marijuana or alcohol are presented.

"It's important to show both sides of the marijuana issue," she claimed, noting that some authorities minimize the drug's danger while other say it is indeed harmful. "It is important that we don't have a lot of people who have smoked marijuana over a long period of time so we don't really know its longrange effects. Why take a chance?"

Teachers who conduct drug education have degrees in social studies, science or health. To acquaint the teachers with information about drugs and crime, in-service sessions are held before classes begin in the summer and during the school year too.

Experts in juvenile psychology, drug use and law enforcement are brought into the district to help teachers prepare for the Crime Prevention and Drug Education Program. In-service teaches about decision-making, moral development, group processes, value education, juvenile delinquency in Plano and law in a changing society.

Often, teachers can earn college credit during the in-service training.

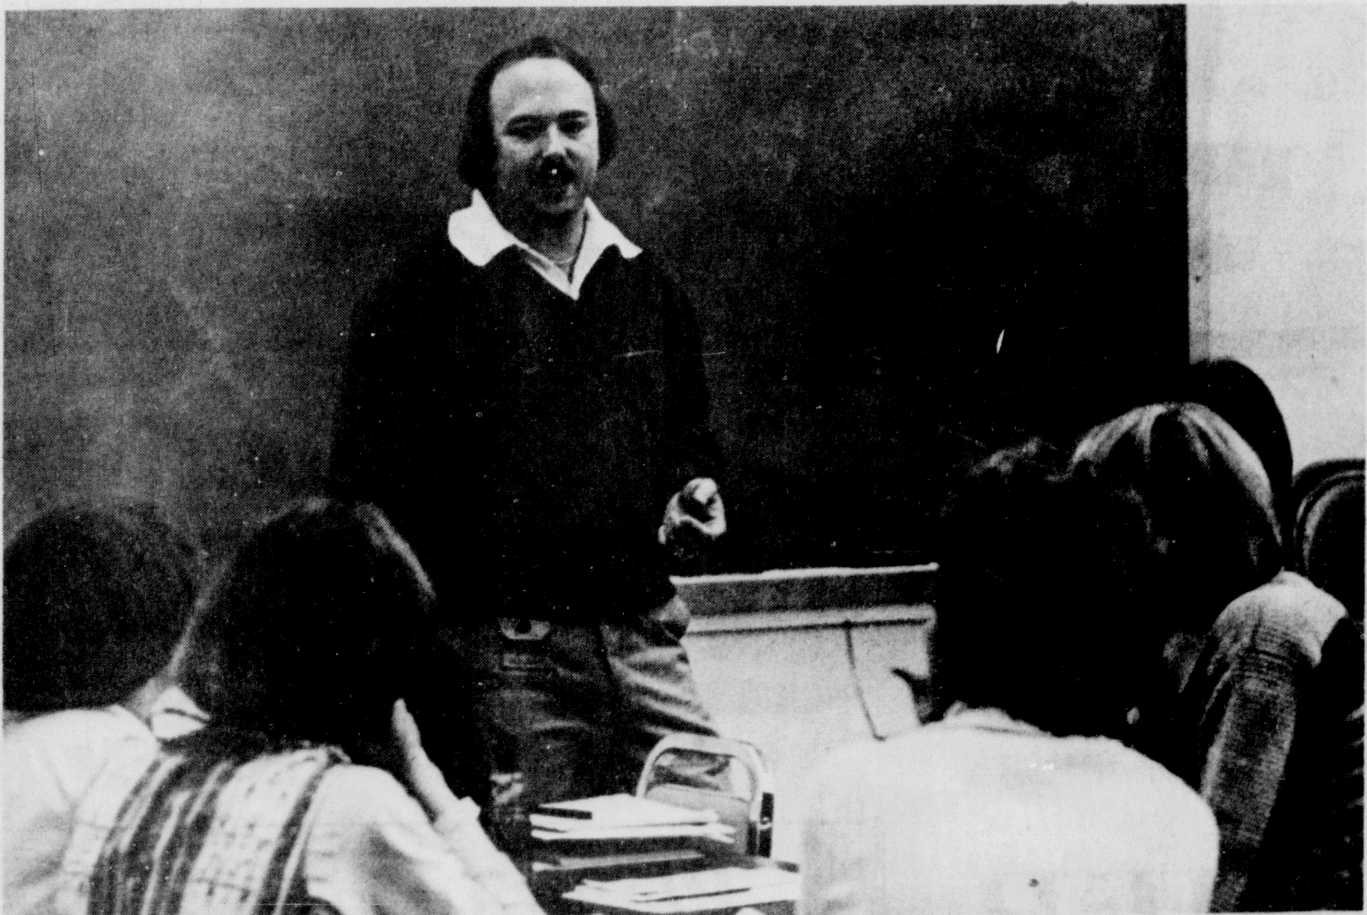

"We feel we've gone way beyond what the state says a teacher needs in order to be competent," said Ms. Collins. "We also make sure that everyone is aware of how they can help the kids and who they can refer kids to if they need help beyond what the classroom teacher can do."

Once the teachers are trained, they help write the drug education curriculum which is incorporated into their regular science, health or social studies classes.

"The knowledge part (of drug education) is being written into science and health," explained Ms. Collins. "The state is emphasizing values but knowledge is important too. We want the students to be aware of what happens when they take a certain drug."

"The School Board saw a need for a citizenship program and all the (drug education) blends in with citizenship. Every single unit will hit it from some angle."

Drug abuse among Plano students can be prevented, Luanne Collins believes, if those students can be taught the facts about drugs and how to properly decide not to abuse them.

Frank Stone, education specialist with the Texas Commission on Alcoholism presented the first lecture in a six-part course for PISD teachers and administrators Monday night in the School Administration Building. While receiving in-service training in connection with the district's Crime Prevention and Drug Education Program, the staff members also earn one hour of graduate credit from North Texas State University. (Staff photo by Mike Newman).

Council Okays Move For Old George Home

By PAM TROBOY

The George House may soon have a new location.

City Council members Monday night agreed to sell the Plano Preservation Association a lot on the northeast corner of the Avenue N-19th Street intersection.

The purchase price which will be "fair market value" is to be set in executive session after the 112-foot by 250-foot lot is appraised.

The council also approved the final plats of Collin County Office Park I and II. The first phase which is destined for a savings and loan office was approved 3-0 with Bob Collins excusing himself on the grounds of financial interest in the applicant, Collin County Savings and Loan.

Harwath Enterprises won only narrow approval, however, on the 7.25 acres adjacent to Phase I. Jack Hatchell and Jack Harvard opposed the plat without stating a reason for their objection.

Harvard did question drainage plans on both phases. City Engineer Gordon Summitt told him that the two 66-inch pipes which will be installed across the property are sufficient to handle storm water.

Summitt pointed out that additional outlets may need to be installed, at city expense, in Greenway Drive to handle water flowing into the area from Regal Road. He explained that although the pipes would be able to handle the water, it is unable to get below ground at present.

The ultimate solution will be extensive drainage work along Regal. Mayor Norman Whitsitt noted that the project must be evaluated for its priority on the capital improvements list.

Collins also requested that Harwath submit a landscape plan for his development. Harwath's planner, Jim Lee, agreed to give the plan to staff members who will forward it to the council. The landscape plan will have no effect on the final plat, however.

In the only other controversial action of the evening, the council granted a temporary building permit to C.E. Williams for an office to sell temporary buildings.

Williams explained that his business will be operated on a month to month lease basis. Hatchell and Harvard opposed the issuance of the permit, but Whitsitt cast the deciding vote in favor.

He and Collins maintained that Williams' request was the only true "temporary" building request the council had ever received.

Items gaining unanimous approval after public hearings were the addition of a planned development designation on 544 Place; a special use permit for a veterinary clinic west of the Park Boulevard-Coit Road intersection; mandatory 20-foot front yards in heavy commercial, light industrial and heavy industrial districts; and allowing accessory buildings to be built on the rear lot line if an alley exists.

Also gaining approval was a request from the Downtown Merchants Association to allow amplified music by special permit.

The association made the first request under the change by asking for a permit to allow choral singing in the central business district until Jan. 1.

The final plats of Parker Square, Gulf Oil 7, 544 Place II, Westgate I, Greenville Square and Brookstone District were also approved. The replat of Custer Park also gained approval.

Council members also awarded bids on several equipment purchases to be bought with certificates of obligation. The list of equipment to be purchased in this manner was reconsidered and renovations to the police department were dropped. A flat tire machine was added to the list.

Massage Lawsuit Stalled

A lawsuit concerning Collin County's massage parlor ordinance has been postponed and no new date set.

The suit, which names Judge Nathan E. White Jr., Sheriff Jerry Burton, District Attorney Tom O'Connell and the Collin County Commissioners, was originally scheduled to be heard Monday morning in federal district court in Sherman. Attorneys for the petitioners requested the postponement.

Robert New of Body Shoppe Massage and William Abel of April's Massage along with two masseuses filed the suit in hopes of having it declared unconstitutional. They objected in particular to a portion of the ordinance which prohibits members of one sex from massaging members of the opposite sex.

About HUD Project

PISD Petitions City

The PISD Board of Trustees has urged the Plano City Council to deny a building permit for a proposed HUD low-income housing project until the council can "satisfy themselves that the project will be beneficial to the community."

U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development officials have approved a 144-unit, low-income and elderly-assisted project in Plano at the intersection of Avenue N and Park Boulevard.

In an emergency meeting Monday night, the School Board met in closed executive session with PISD attorney Nathan E. White Jr. to discuss the wording of a letter sent to the Mayor and City Council.

White cautioned trustees against using such words as "block" or "restrict" when referring to the HUD housing, noting that such language might lead to a lawsuit against the school district.

After 45 minutes in executive session, the board met in open session just long enough to unanimously approve sending the letter to the City Council. Jerry Smith, public information director for the PISD, left the board room and went directly to City Hall where he read the letter during the council's public meeting.

Before the city okays a building permit for the project, the School Board asked that it obtain information from HUD as to the need for 144 rent-subsidized housing units in Plano.

The letter also asked that studies be made to show that the necessary community services are available to meet the needs of the new families moving into the project. The PISD letter urged that special attention be given to public transportation, parks and schools for children.

A third request asked for assurance that the new families will not be overcrowded in existing schools and for verification from the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare that the proposed housing will not require mandates concerning busing of students out of their neighborhood attendance zones.

Finally, the letter asked for reasons for concentrating "this many rent-subsidized housing units in one area."

"The intent of this request," the letter concluded, "is one of cooperation and deep concern for continued community welfare."

Voter Certificates Mailed This Week

Voter certificates will be mailed to some 20,000 registered Plano voters some time this week according to County Clerk James Webb. A total of 50,000 cards will be mailed countywide.

The new, gold-colored cards will indicate newly established voting boxes effective Jan. 1. Several Planosites will vote in new or different precincts beginning in 1978.

"Since we made so many changes in Plano, we're making an attempt to make these new certificates as accurate as possible," explained Webb.

"Any changes should be reported to this office."

The cards will not be forwarded if persons have moved, the county clerk noted. Changes of name or address should be reported to Webb by calling 235-5924 or 1-542-5063.

If certificates are accidentally mailed to households of persons who have recently died, those cards should be returned to the clerk's office.

Also, registered voters who do not receive valid certificates by next week should contact the county clerk.

Briscoe Examines Health Care Plan

Governor Criticizes Guidelines

Texans, not Washington bureaucrats, know their state's health care needs, Governor Dolph Briscoe said today as he criticized proposed National Guidelines for Health Planning.

"Arbitrary formulas maintaining, in essence, that health care needs are the same in rural areas in Texas as they are in New York are foolish and unfounded in fact or logic," the Governor said. "I will continue to fight for a more appropriate federal health policy."

"Washington officials need to realize that those persons most familiar with the needs of their area, those persons who must cope with problems on a daily basis, are the ones who should be involved in the decision-making process," Briscoe said.

The proposed guidelines, drafted by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, would key the availability of hospital services to population density and average use of the services and facilities.

Briscoe has expressed his strong feelings about the situation in a letter to President Carter in which the Governor took exception to the proposed guidelines.

"We all share the same concerns about holding the line on the cost of health care but these proposed guidelines go too far,"

Briscoe said. "Some hospitals might have to close their doors or, at best, curtail services with a resulting inconvenience to citizens."

The guidelines, if fully implemented, will make it even more difficult for citizens in rural Texas to attract and keep doctors and other needed personnel in their communities, Briscoe said.

The Texas Hospital Association, the Governor added, has pointed out that 88 percent of Texas hospitals responding to a survey failed to meet proposed requirements for a hospital to have an obstetric unit.

The THA survey showed travel time to the next closest obstetrical hospital would range from five minutes to four hours with an average of 54 minutes.

"I don't think any Texan would want an expectant mother to face a four-hour automobile trip to reach a hospital," Briscoe said.

As proposed, the regulations would allow less than four hospital beds per 1,000 persons within a health service area and expect those beds to be filled 80 percent of the time on a yearly basis.

This, the Governor predicted, could result in more than 11,000 hospital beds becoming unavailable in Texas.

Enforcement of the guidelines could involve withholding Medicare and Medicaid payments from hospitals that fail to comply.

"The imposition of arbitrary, rigid formulas for determining the appropriate availability of health services and facilities for the citizens of Texas is highly offensive and will, in the long run, result in rationed health care," the Governor pointed out.

"The President apparently is listening to the bureaucrats and their ideas about a national health policy instead of letting local citizens tell Congress what their needs involve."

The Governor said the situation is similar to circumstances surrounding the President's energy proposals which seem to reflect more input from psychologists and behavioral scientists than energy experts and engineers.

Texas, Briscoe noted, has many highly capable local and state elected and appointed officials, 12 health system agencies plus a series of state health agencies all quite capable of determining the health care needs of the state's citizens without unnecessary federal meddling and interference.

The U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare has extended until December 9 the deadline for commenting on the proposed guidelines.

'A Better Mustard' Spawns Store

By BRENDA ROTZOLL BOW, N.H. (UPI) — Sharing Mama's mustard with local customers turned Frank and Laura Gregory's farm produce business into a national enterprise.

Their Greylare Farms mustard whipped up from Laura's mother's recipe now is sold in stores in many states and they ship food gift packages around the country and to England, France and New Zealand every year.

It all started when someone reneged on a verbal contract to buy 100 baby pigs for an Easter celebration.

The Gregorys, who previously had tried sheep, chickens and cows, were just entering the hog raising business. They found themselves broke in springtime with 100 piglets and no capital. Their banker suggested they raise the piglets to cure and sell their own ham and bacon.

"We tried it and it came out pretty well," Mrs. Gregory recalls. At Easter, when they sold the most hams, she whipped up some of the spiced mustard her mother invented, put it in little plastic jars, and presented one with each ham as a gift.

Within two months they were inundated with letters and telephone calls asking where more mustard could be obtained. She made some more in the back kitchen, her husband found a few local stores to sell the mustard, "and from there it just took off."

They found a Boston distributor, got into several supermarket chains, added sales through stores in Florida, Texas, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Michigan and a growing list of states. "I just had a request the other day from Phoenix," she said.

Mrs. Gregory said her mother, Christina Wollrath, "was a fabulous cook. She would always whip up a fresh little bowl of mustard for my father, who loved it."

It's good on ham, and Mrs. Gregory says it is good in cooking, too. "If you spread it on a hamburger before you cook it, it gives a lovely taste, but it doesn't taste like mustard."

The recipe is a trade secret, but Mrs. Gregory will say the mustard is uncooked, contains spices, and is made of a special and expensive blend of mustard flour.

Greylare Farms almost went under when its Boston mustard supplier went bankrupt. Other mustard flours "were awful," Mrs. Gregory said. Finally her husband found the bankrupt firm's chemist, who said his company had imported the mustard from a company in Hamilton, Ontario.

One Christmas Mrs. Gregory made homemade pickles and jams for presents. Her husband made little baskets for them, and decided they looked so nice, they should try selling them.

The business soon expanded out of the living room in their 1810 house and into a new shop across the road. Soon they were selling pickles, relishes, cheese, meats, their own maple syrup and local handicrafts. People came from miles for sleighrides and hayrides, and school children were bused in to see maple syrup made the old fashioned way, the sap collected by hand and boiled down over a wood fire.

Mrs. Gregory said they called the new shop "Salmagundi" (a salad made of any mixture of things) "because we were selling a mixture of country living."

In January, 1974, the Greylare Barn burned down, almost taking the house with it. Town civic groups offered to raise a new barn. Frank Gregory worked all winter cutting boards and planning the structure, and in September up it went. In one day it was complete to the rafters and the walls were boarded in.

Last year the Gregorys thought of retirement, and sold the mustard operation to a Connecticut firm. Four months later Frank died.

-Council Meeting

The council also heard a complaint against the police department from Alan E. Fogelberg. He asked the council to survey the problem and take action "before there's another Houston in Plano" referring to the death of a prisoner in police custody.

In other action, the council awarded Cole-Williams a $32,500 contract to relocate sewage lift stations at the service center; approved a policy on rumble strips; abandoned a 30-foot strip in Central Plano Industrial Park; granted a temporary building permit to Farm and Home Savings at the northwest corner of 15th and Coit; and postponed the second December meeting until Dec. 27.

Council members also received copies of a letter approved by the school board earlier in the evening. (See related story page one.)

School Dropouts Can Get Degrees

It doesn't pay to drop out of school to join a military service, most recruiters advise. But if you did, and you want to finish high school or prepare for college entry, VA will pay you.

At least one out of ten Vietnam-era GI Bill students has received monthly checks and refresher or deficiency courses to qualify them for higher education under the GI Bill's "free entitlement" provisions, Jack Coker, Director of the VA Regional Office in Waco, reported today.

More than 760,000 persons have taken advantage of the training opportunities without using any of their basic GI Bill eligibility. The trainees represent more than 11 percent of the 7 million persons who have trained under the current GI Bill since 1966.

Eligible GI Bill students may receive full benefits while training for high school completion. Others who have completed high school but need refresher or remedial courses for entrance into training, also may take the necessary courses on a free-entitlement basis.

This training is not charged to the maximum of 45 months' educational assistance available to all veterans during the 10 years after release from active duty, but not later than December 31, 1989.

A special outreach effort by VA benefits counselors during the past year was credited with a 23 percent increase in free entitlement enrollments. Repeated contacts are made with veterans with less than four years' high school in an effort to interest them in training.

VA studies of veterans who use free entitlement show that more than 50 percent continue in other forms of training.

Complete information on all VA educational assistance programs is available at any VA office.

KERA Will Broadcast Special Music Shows

From an enchanting concert by the renowned Vienna Choir Boys to a jazz extravaganza with the legendary Benny Goodman and his sextet, Channel 13 will present a wide array of holiday music specials during "A Different Picture for the Holidays" (November 27-December 11).

The Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra, conducted by Heinz Wallberg, presents a concert of old world favorites on "A Festival in Vienna", Wednesday, November 30 at 7 p.m.

Selections include Johann Strauss' "1001 Nights," "Dvorak's 'Slavonic Dances,'" Josef Strauss'

"The Waltz of the Village Swallows" and, in what conductor Wallberg characterizes as "a fitting dab of Bavarian cream," Johann Strauss' sprightly "Donner and Blitz" polka.

In the holiday spirit, the Vienna Choir Boys are featured in a program of sacred music, dance songs, serious and comic opera, folk songs and classical motets on "Silent Night", Monday, December 5 at 9:30 p.m.

Taped in Maria am Gestade, one of Vienna's oldest churches founded in 880 A.D., "Silent Night" presents the boys singing a seasonal concert selection in German and Latin, including "O Tannenbaum," "Adeste Fidelis" and "Stille Nacht," better known as "Silent Night."

Benny Goodman, the undisputed "King of Swing," performs with his sextet and big band in a special 60-minute concert on "In Performance at Wolf Trap," Friday, December 9 at 9 p.m.

The concert, a musical journey through Goodman's 40 years as a jazz man—from the early tunes he first played in Chicago to a collection of modern rock-jazz melodies he's added to his repertoire in the last few years, will feature the

"Rhapsody in Blue," "Let's Dance," "King Porter Stomp," "When Your Lover Has Gone" and "Sing, Sing, Sing."

Judy Garland tops off the holiday line-up in the captivating Christmas musical, "Meet Me in St. Louis," Saturday, December 10 at 8:15 p.m., repeated Sunday, December 11 at 4:30 p.m.

Set in St. Louis during the 1903 World's Fair, the 1944 film also stars Margaret O'Brien, Mary Astor, June Lockhart and Leon Ames. Judy lifts such favorites as "The Boy Next Door," "Trolley Song" and the title tune "Have Yourself a Merry Little Christmas."

Hunt Properties Gets New 'Ammie' Award

On Wednesday, the first "Ammie" award of the Plano Heritage Association will be presented to Hunt Properties, Inc. of Dallas for its contribution to preserving Plano's heritage.

Hunt Properties, Inc. donated $5,000 and the home and outbuildings of the late Mrs. Ammie Wilson to the Plano Heritage Association. The Plano City Council then purchased the four acres on which the building stands so the site could be used by the community for cultural, recreational and educational purposes.

An awards committee was formed and its members decided to create an award to be given at the discretion of the Plano Heritage Association to a person, corporation or organization which has made a significant contribution to preserving Plano's heritage.

Carmen Haggard, a Plano artist, was selected to create the award.

Joan Biggerstaff, president of the Plano Heritage Association, said, "Carmen decided to carve a ram's horn to symbolize the sheep raised by 'Mrs. Ammie' even though her sheep did not have horns. Then the carving would be used to make a mold from which a bronze casting could be made."

"I decided that every step in the manufacture of the award should be done in Plano or by Plano people," Mrs. Haggard said.

Castings were done by Precision Manufacturing Plano; Gary Lawler, Plano resident, assisted with sketches; Frank Longcar, Plano resident, donated 300 lbs. of bronze; and Jack Carter at Carter Craft in Plano did the final finishing of the bronze casting.

Mrs. Haggard's family and members of the Plano Heritage Association assisted with other aspects of the award's production.

Mrs. Haggard said, "My children said my carving looked like a snail. And the carving of the wood was tedious work which moved at a snail's pace. I had never carved before so I learned as I went."

Several "Ammie" awards have been cast from the 300 lbs. of bronze donated by Longcar.

But the Plano Heritage will not give the award on a regular basis, Ms. Biggerstaff said.

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Mets reduced their winter roster to 40 players Monday by outrighting outfielder Billy Baldwin and second baseman Ken Perry to their Tidewater farm club of the International League.

The 26-year-old Baldwin batted .277 at Tidewater and Perry, .23, hit .261 for the IL club.

PISCATAWAY, N.J. (UPI) — The New Jersey Nets announced Monday Bubbles Hawkins, who became the star of the NBA club last season after the departure of Julius Erving and the loss of Tiny Archibald to an injury, was given his outright release.

Alan "Bud" Selig, Brewers' president, made the announcement at a news conference. The Brewers earlier had signed outfielder Larry Hise, the American League RBI king, one of the top players available in the free agent draft.

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI) — The California Angels completed their coaching staff for the 1978 season Monday by hiring Bob Skinner as hitting instructor and renewing the contract of Bob Clear, who works at first base.

Other Angel coaches are Marv Grissom who handles the pitchers, John McNamara, third base, and Jimmie Reese.

SEATTLE (UPI) — Seattle Supersonics Fred Brown remained at home Monday when his team left on a four-game road trip because of the flareup of an old knee injury.

Brown will be out of action for at least two weeks due to swelling, irritation and fluid behind his left kneecap, a club spokesman said. The original injury occurred in 1972.

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Junior Bridgeman has a broken nose but that isn't going to stop him from playing tonight when the Milwaukee Bucks host the Detroit Pistons, one of their toughest Midwest Division foes.

With a splint protecting his nose he will continue to play the next two weeks while his nose heals—"I can shoot fine, I just hope I'm not gun shy."

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI) — The California Angels Monday elevated Bob Rodgers, 39, manager of their El Paso farm club last season, to manager of Salt Lake City of the Pacific Coast League next year.

Rodgers, a catcher with the Angels from 1962 to 1969, directed El Paso to a pair of Texas League Western Division titles last season.

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — As a result of an incident in a game Nov. 26, three members of the Edmonton Oilers and five New England Whalers were fined Monday a total of $2,600 and handed suspensions totaling five games for physical abuses of game officials, by World Hockey Association executive director Larry Gordon.

Dave Semenko of Edmonton was suspended for three games and fined $1,350 and George Lyle of New England was suspended for two games and a $350 fine. Also fined were Edmonton players Butch Deadmarsh, $100 and Gary MacGregor, $50. New England players fined were Jack Carlson, found guilty of a lesser abuse, $600, Mike Rogers, Rick Ley and Gordie Roberts, all $50.

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago White Sox Monday signed free-agent Alvin "Junior" Moore, a 24-year-old third baseman, to a two-year contract.

White Sox President Bill Veeck denied published reports Moore was signed for a total of $300,000.

'Lavon' Plans Radio Station

By BOBBY CAMP
Reservoir Ranger

The Federal Communications Commission has approved the license for a 10-watt AM radio transmitter to be located at the Lavon Project Office near the west end of the dam. Pertinent lake information will be broadcast on 1610 on the AM dial.

Information that will be broadcast on a continuing basis will include availability of fee parks, marina information, beach area information, camp site availability, fishing reports, fire and safety hazard warnings, coverage of special events, hunting information, emergency telephone numbers, information on the handicap parks, schedules of ranger interpretative programs in the parks, nature trail and motorcycle trail information and other information that might be helpful to visitors of Lake Lavon.

The 10 watts of power will provide a broadcast radius of approximately 15 miles from the transmitter. Signs will be placed along major roads leading to Lake Lavon advising you to turn to 1610 and learn what is happening at the lake. This transmitter is just another way the Corps of Engineers is trying to help you have a safe and enjoyable visit to Lake Lavon.

The visitor center located at the Lavon Project Office will be officially opened to the public on Nov. 29, 1977. This center shows many aspects of the past and present Lake Lavon and surrounding communities. It also has outstanding archaeological and natural history displays. The main attraction is an automatic slide program that tells the history, purpose, and recreational facilities that are available at Lake Lavon. It is a most interesting program that should be seen by all visitors to the area to better acquaint them with what Lake Lavon has to offer.

The Corps of Engineers has been utilizing local contractors and individuals in maintenance of Project facilities. Anyone interested in bidding on painting, carpentry, plumbing, roadway building and repair, dozer work, etc., or other skilled labor contracts should submit their name and type of skill to the Project Office so that it can be added to the prospective bidders list.

When a job is contracted, all bidders will be notified by mail with a description of the job to be done and a bid sheet. The bids will be opened on a specified date and time and the low bidder will be notified when to commence work.

Fishermen are reporting good catches of sand bass, crappie, and channel cat. Some of the best areas have been at the Garland Power Plant, Elm Creek, and along the dam. Several hybrid stripers were reported being caught last week near the dam that weighed about four pounds.

The camper service areas at Lavonia and East Fork Parks will remain open all winter for the hearty winter campers. The camping fee is still only $3.50 per night for full hook-ups to travel trailers.

In response to the many calls received by people wanting to cut firewood, we remind everyone that cutting of trees and firewood is no longer permitted at Lake Lavon. Also, wood cutting will not be allowed in the future.

A reminder to outdoorsmen and campers - fire season is approaching, so please be careful with campfires. Make your visit to Lavon a safe and enjoyable one for yourself and others.

Joe Simmons led the Wildcat scoring effort with 13 points. He was followed by Lee Edwards with ten points and Kirk Waggoner and Rie Smith both with eight points. Haynes got four points for the Cats to round out the scoring.

Dorsett Discusses Win

Cowboys Make Playoffs

By MIKE RABUN
UPI Sports Writer

DALLAS (UPI) — Tony Dorsett is hardly a seasoned or objective observer but the rookie running back sees momentum pushing the Dallas Cowboys into the NFC playoffs.

With their 14-7 victory over the Washington Redskins Sunday, the Cowboys ensured themselves of a playoff berth — their 11th in the past 12 years — and Dorsett says earlier back-to-back losses are forgotten. "Backs were running hard, Roger (quarterback Roger Staubach) was throwing good and the receivers were catching it. That's it," he said.

To be more specific, the former Heisman Trophy winner says the momentum began building when the Cowboys came back from a 7-0 deficit against the Redskins.

"It was a team effort in the second half," Dorsett said. "The difference between the first half and the second half of that game was that in the second half we finally decided to play some football. Our guys went out there and started putting their hats on people."

The fact that the Cowboys had qualified for post-season play apparently escaped a lot of people over the weekend — including the heirarchy of the National Football League.

When Cowboys officials made it into their office Monday a tedious check of the playoff and tie-breaking possibilities revealed the team can do no worse than be a wild card entry, even if it loses its last three games.

And when the Cowboys double checked with the league office in New York, officials there discovered the same thing.

Even though several teams could tie Dallas with a 9-5 record if the Cowboys lost its three final games against Philadelphia, San Francisco and Denver, Dallas would own a tiebreak advantage in every case.

The Cowboys, however, expect to do somewhat better than a wild card position and they can clinch the NFC East championship next Sunday with a victory over Philadelphia.

And Coach Tom Landry said the second half comeback victory against the Redskins — following upset losses to St. Louis and Pittsburgh — was very timely.

"Everyone knew at the half we were playing poorly, or at least we were getting poor results," Landry said. "I told them (at intermission) that I felt we had to rededicate ourselves for 30 more minutes of football and we had to be better than we were the first half.

"I don't remember my exact words, but we knew we had to play hard today. But we still weren't playing hard enough because they (Washington) were playing harder the first half.

"That's what I had to try to convince the players. Then in the second half we were better than they were. I'm talking about hitting, moving and everything else."

Goalkeeper Corps

Goalkeepers of the Plano Spartans F.C. teams got together recently to discuss the Spartans trip to the Mardi Gras Invitational Soccer Games in February in New Orleans. The goalkeepers are Mike Raitt, Stewart Bailey, Joel Stanford, Derrick Hall, Charles Trent and Darcy Brown. All of the goalkeepers are in extensive training for the Mardi Gras games. Highlighting upcoming play of the teams, the Spartans U-19 girls will travel to Austin to play the University of Texas Women's Collegiate team, the U-19 boys will be playing in the Mid-western State University Soccer Tournament on Dec. 3-4, and the U-14 boys are playing exhibitions including a team from St. Louis. Wildcats Even Record At 2-2

Coach Mike Bridges' Plano Senior High Wildcat basketball team evened their season record to 2-2 Saturday night with a 67-58 win over Lewisville.

Played at Lewisville, the game was highlighted by late second quarter action when Dan Davis came off the Wildcat bench. Davis sparked the Wildcats, who were trailing by 10 points at the time, and led them to a 39-37 edge at intermission. "He definitely sparked us at the right time," Coach Bridges said of Davis.

Dane Herbel put together an outstanding offensive and defensive game in leading the Wildcats with 19 points. Flip Redden also played well on the boards and offensively with 16 points.

Travis Benke contributed with 10 points, Jamie Oakry added eight points, Richard Campbell registered seven points and Dan Davis put five points on the board.

"We had a good ball game. Lewisville really got after us. They shot their eyes out, 53 percent, and we shot 46 percent from the field," Coach Bridges said.

"Herbel had an outstanding game both offensively and defensively. Flip also had a good game. Then, Dan came off the bench to help us," Coach Bridges added.

Plano has two games this week, Tuesday at South Grand Prairie and Friday at L.D. Bell.

Change For Pastorini?

HOUSTON (UPI) — Coach Bum Phillips was reminded Monday that quarterback Dan Pastorini was in his option year with the Houston Oilers.

"He's gonna be here until the Denver game, that's all I'm concerned with," Phillips replied. "We'll cross that (other) bridge when we come to it."

Despite Phillips' and the team's well being because of three victories this month, there is a slight ripple of discord because Pastorini and at least one other Oiler want to seek the highest bidder after this season.

Under the provisions of transactions involving free agent veteran players playing out their options, Houston can retain Pastorini by matching a contract offer from another team.

"As long as I'm here, we want Dan," Phillips said.

Pastorini does not wish to talk about his possible travel plans after the next three games, but early-season disappointments and the return of his loud detractors in the Astrodome caused him to talk of changing teams.

He said there were no contract negotiations because, "They don't want to sign me now, not when they can keep me for another year at a lesser salary."

What brought up the Pastorini situation at Phillips' regular news conference was renewed optimism that the Oilers might be developing into a bonafide playoff-contending team.

Two trends have developed recently.

Houston has established a decent running game. Rob Carpenter, Ronnie Coleman and Tim Wilson combining Sunday to average 7.7 yards per carry. And Pastorini appears to be controlling his offensive weapons more effectively, calling more audibles and making them work.

On the first play of Sunday's game, Pastorini saw single coverage on Kenny Burrough and switched plays at the line of scrimmage before throwing to Burrough for a touchdown.

Phillips said Pastorini was still improving.

POLLY'S PROBLEM

DEAR POLLY - Can you tell me how I can get a macramé purse back to its natural white color? I washed it with a mild detergent and it turned yellow so I tried bleach but there was no change. Thank you. - CAROL.

DEAR CAROL - You could try color remover that can be found in stores with packaged dyes. - POLLY.

DEAR POLLY - I want to add to Vern's list of bad table manners. At family picnics, church pot luck suppers, etc. when a platter of fried chicken is passed (especially on the second go round) some people will use the fork they have been eating with and spear every piece on the platter looking for a favorite piece before passing it on. That is when I quit eating. Who wants a piece of meat that has been speared and moved around by a fork that has been in someone's mouth? Do not use my name but just sign me - A FAN.

DEAR POLLY - I want to suggest to Mrs. J.M. who is plagued by lint balls on things, that she might try gently rubbing the surface of the fabric with FINE grained sandpaper. I have had great success removing lint balls formed on materials, sweaters, etc. and especially those made of synthetics. - HELEN K.

DEAR POLLY - I find that wet plastic curlers will curl dry hair very well and faster than when the hair is wet. This is especially good for those with long hair as it dries so slowly and for short hair when it does not need washing but you would like to give it a quick curl. - LYNN.

DEAR POLLY - I am recovering from a broken ankle and therefore need to keep it elevated when sitting down so as to reduce the swelling. I could not depend on finding a footstool at the doctor's office or at the homes of friends so I went to the Army Surplus store and for little over a dollar and a half found a portable camp stool to carry with me. It is light, folds flat and can go in a flat shopping bag with handles and carried over my arm like a purse. Since the legs are wood they can be cut to suit the person's comfort. A friend with a bad knee has followed suit and it is so cheap people living in Social Security can afford it. - MRS. P.R.B.

DEAR POLLY - When I go shopping I always carry some name and address stickers in my purse. When I buy something I stick one of these on the package in case I should lose or misplace it. - MRS. JAN L.

DEAR POLLY - Have you discovered that some of the family's jacket sleeves are too short or that the cuffs are worn out? Cut the ribbed tops from old socks and sew them on and even give the garment a new sweater look. - M.V.S.

Polly will send you one of her signed thank-you newspaper coupon clippers if she uses your favorite Pointer, Peeve or Problem in her column. Write POLLY'S POINTERS in care of this newspaper.

Plano Lumber and Hardware has helped Plano to grow for over 40 years and the employees take great pride in the knowledge of their industry. That's another reason why buying at Plano Lumber and Hardware is simplified - the employees know the products they sell and can answer all questions from customers with confidence.

Employees at Plano Lumber and Hardware are constantly educated about new products and building trends to stay on top of their competition.

Another way Plano Lumber and Hardware meets the needs of their customers is through an elaborate inventory control. They maintain a $600,000 inventory at all times on a wide variety of merchandise. Odds are if Plano Lumber and Hardware doesn't have the item in stock, nobody will.

Plano Lumber and Hardware is the natural place to shop first when it comes time for home improvement and redecorating. They have a 45,000 square foot showroom that displays many of their quality products. They can provide customers with comparisons of products and help with color coordination.

Plano Lumber and Hardware has one of the area's largest carpet and vinyl flooring centers. They handle carpeting by Brincrest, Vantage, Lidlow, Monarch, Vuckery, Trend and Ozite. They also handle vinyl flooring by Armstrong, Congoleum and GAF.

Financing is available at Plano Lumber and Hardware and so are layaways. Installation is also available on request for flooring and carpet.

Managed by L.T. Durrett, Plano Lumber and Hardware is open seven days a week for the convenience of Planoiters. They are open weekdays from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. and on Saturdays from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. They are open on Sundays from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Briefs

'Thermos Bottle' Homes Save Energy
MISSION VIEJO, Calif. (UPI) — Two "thermos bottle" homes here use about one-half the energy consumed by conventional houses nearby. Their secret: extra-thick insulation and "enthalpy" — a Honeywell system that draws in outside air for heating or cooling when sensors determine this would be efficient.

Wife's Earnings Important to Family
WASHINGTON (UPI) — More women are buying life insurance protection because a growing number of United States households rely heavily on the wife's earnings, says the American Council of Life Insurance. Last year, six million households had an annual income of $25,000, but only three million husbands earned $25,000 or more a year. Children in some families contributed to the family income, but working wives usually accounted for most of the income above $25,000, the council said.

Avoid Fire Hazard With Chain Saws
COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI) — People who plan to cut their own Christmas trees or firewood with lightweight chain saws should be aware of hazards involved.

Dr. Gary S. Nelson, a safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Services, says it's important to determine wind direction before cutting a tree, and then guard against fires.

Nelson said leaves, grass and gasoline can be ignited by a hot muffler on the saw.

CB Repair Is Job For Professionals
COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI) — CB radio repair is not a job for amateurs.

Incompetent repair can bring the owner a citation, says Claudia Kerbel, consumer information specialist of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Be sure to find a licensed repairer, because compliance with government rules is your responsibility," she said.

Common problems are failure of the final output and audio output transistors and broken microphone wires.

Schools Providing Brown Bag Lunch

PRINCE GEORGE'S COUNTY, Md. (UPI) — Students at public schools in this county eat brown bag lunches they don't have to carry to school.

The county schools food service director, C.A. DiMuzio, first introduced bag lunches for field trips and game days and as variety items in some schools.

He later expanded the program to the county's 61 schools, where they solved three problems at once. They increased participation in the lunch program, reduced loss of plates and silverware and the cost of disposables.

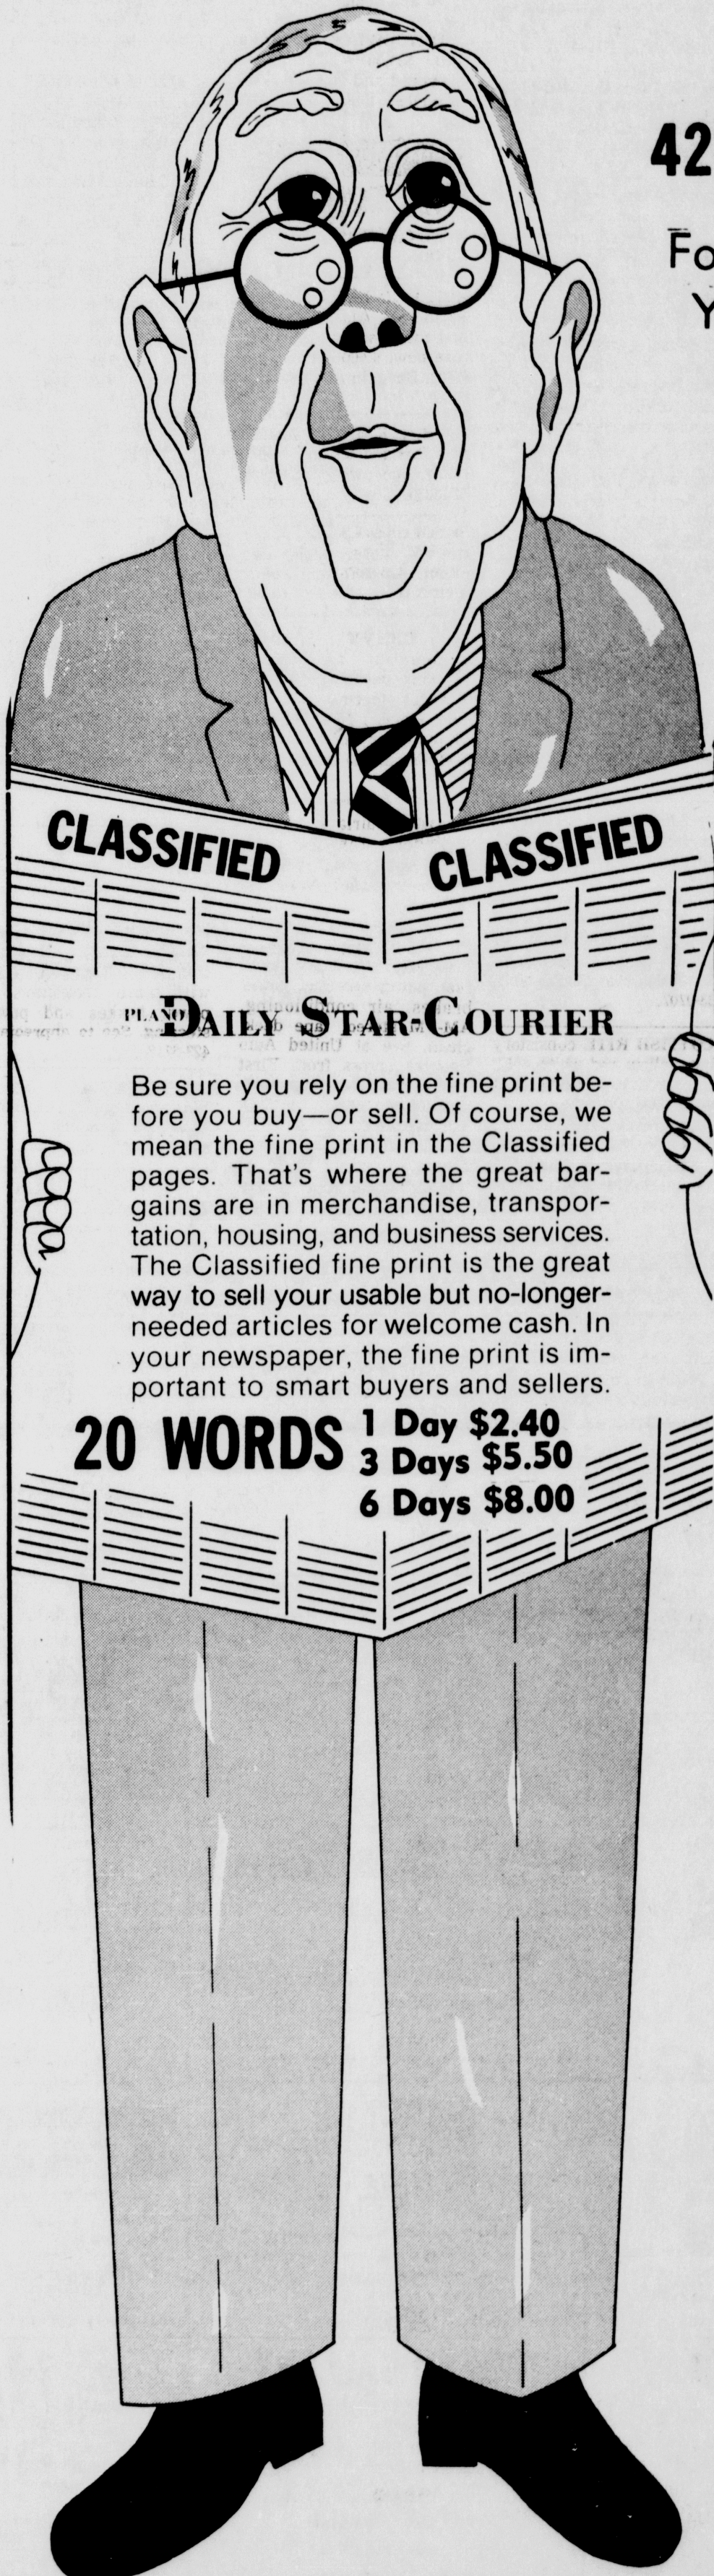

DiMuzio estimates the cost of one unit: a bag, a cup and lid, spoon, sandwich bag, napkin, straw and insulated paper for hot sandwiches at less than a nickel per person.

The perennial sandwich favorites for bag lunches are ham and cheese, ham, steak sub and tunafish.

CONTEST RULES

Listed at the bottom of each advertisement on this page are games to be played during the coming weekend. Using the accompanying entry blank or a reasonable facsimile, list the team which you believe will win that game by the corresponding numbers. If you believe that game will be a tie, write tie in the blank instead of the name of either team. In the separate "Tie Breaker" game you must predict a score of that game. The tiebreaker is used only if there is a tie in the regular contest. One entry per contestant may be submitted, however, each member of a family may enter. Only one member of a family may win in any given contest. Submitting an entry is agreement that all decisions of the judges is final. When using a reasonable facsimile, entry blanks may not be machine reproduced. Only hand drawn blanks depicting the original blank are acceptable. All entries become the property of the Plano Daily Star-Courier and will not be returned. Entries must be received in the Star-Courier or be postmarked by 3 p.m. Friday preceding the weekend of the games. Winners will be announced in the following Tuesday's Star-Courier.
